Gilbert the Gecko visits St Kevin's Primary School, Lower Templestowe

On Thursday 8 October, Extend's mascot, Gilbert the Gecko paid a special visit to St Kevin's Primary School in Lower Templestowe to award the lucky winner of the Extend Kids Club Poster Competition at the school assembly.

Children from Australian primary schools have been busy entering the competition throughout the months of August and September this year. Eligible entrants were children who attend or have attended an Extend Outside School Hours care program in 2009. Children had the opportunity to unleash their creativity and draw their favourite activity at OSHC. The winning entry was awarded to a St Kevin's Primary School Extend after care prep student for "Playing Octopus", a popular team-tag style game enjoyed by the kids at after care. Other entries included "making nachos", "finger puppets", "Extend's Got Talent", and "making friends".

Congratulations to Marcus from St Kevin's Primary School Extend after care, who was the centre of attention at his school assembly last Thursday. Marcus stole the lime light and was all smiles as he was awarded a kids@play Mega Craft activity box and Extend show bag by Gilbert the Gecko during the school assembly.
